Introduction

Amidst a convergence of economic, energy, and geopolitical challenges gripping the world, we extend an invitation to engage in a comprehensive discourse on the pressing issues anticipated to shape the global economic landscape in 2024.

From the ramifications of the ongoing economic downturn, which underscore the imperative for heightened compliance and ethical standards within businesses, to the escalating energy crisis in Ukraine, the geopolitical sphere is fraught with intricate developments demanding astute analysis.

Against the backdrop of regional conflicts and shifting geopolitical dynamics, an online roundtable will convene representatives spanning international relations, financial institutions, the legal sector, and the private sphere. Here, diverse perspectives will converge to illuminate the multifaceted dimensions of the challenges at hand, alongside exploring the potential pathways that technical intelligence may offer in navigating the complexities of the future.
